► TAILOR-MADE PATENT SEARCH

► DEPAROM-PROFIL is Bundesdruckerei's individually tailored product programme that adapts itself precisely to the customer's needs and presents topic-related search results in the patent segment. When regularly subscribed, this is also the ideal means to set up your company's very own network search system. If requested, Bundesdruckerei can offer DEPAROM integration of an existing printed archive as an integral digital data collection. This results in a uniform digital archive and search system ranging from the oldest patent documents to the patent applications and registrations of the current month. One special service by Bundesdruckerei is that it offers to import into DEPAROM existing additional information that has been collected over the course of years and which represents an important wealth of experience. This additional information can also be searched throughout the network.

Network solutions for developers and patent officers

DEPAROM-Profil provides vital support to patent officers in central departments, relieving them of time-consuming routine tasks. With DEPAROM-PROFIL, access is provided to all the data throughout the entire company. The patent officers update the Profil data stocks on a regular basis. This means that developers have access to DEPAROM and are always up to date when it comes to new developments in their specific technical discipline. Only those who are familiar with their market can avoid the costs and loss of time that result from multiple and parallel developments.

DEPAROM-PROFIL offers the added benefit of an annotation function. With the help of this annotation module, patent officers can always add searchable comments to particularly important industrial property rights, or for example, classify all documents according to the company's own classification!

Thanks to the capability to define fields of technology DEPAROM-PROFIL is tailor-made for technically leading companies or companies that operate world-wide. ◀
